

Reward-state-associated modulation is stronger in late sensory-to-action activity

A

Discovery cohort · 12 mice · 20,667 isolation-QC units · cross-half stable response labels 71% · D04 pending

Early sensoryLate / action*B*Timing selectivity after adjustment*C*Measured-movement control